

Alexander Cannell
09/17/2012
Professor Barker
CSIS 3700
Review Questions-

1. An employer can be held liable for email harassment. True or False?
True, if the employer does not remedy the online harassment, the employer can be held liable for discrimination and/ or harassment.
2. Building a business case can involve which of the following?
D. All of the above
3. The ASCLD mandates the procedures established for a computer forensics lab. True or False?
True, the ASCLD provides guidelines to members for managing a forensics lab and acquiring crime and forensics lab certification.
4. The manager of a computer forensics lab is responsible for which of the following?
(Choose all that apply)
  - a) Necessary changes in lab procedures and software
  - b) Ensuring that staff members have sufficient training to do the job
  - c) Knowing the lab objectives
7. List two popular certification systems for computer forensics.
Certified Electronic Evidence Collection Specialist (CEECS)
Certified Forensic Computer examiner (CFCE)
9. Why is physical security so critical for computer forensics lab?
Physical security is important because you have to maintain the evidence will be admissible in court. You don't want someone coming in and messing with you physical, or logical evidence.
10. If a visitor to your computer forensics lab is a personal friend, it's not necessary to have him or her sign the visitor's log. True or False?
False, everyone needs to sign into the forensics lab, or the evidence could be compromised and not admissible in court.
11. What three items should you research before enlisting in a certification program?
Requirements
Cost
Acceptability
12. Large computer forensics labs should have at least two exits.
14. Computer forensics facilities always have windows. True or False.
False, the lab should have no windows.